Hot glass provides a unique and exciting artistic medium! We can show you how to teach hot glass techniques to your students. Fused and slumped glass art can be created in your existing kilns with minimal supply purchase. Even young students can learn this fascinating art glass technique! Explore the world of hot glass!

Lampworking, carving, and sand etching can be taught to mature high school and college level students. We maintain a Lampworking studio where you and your students can rent torch time to practice your new skills.
